Interactive Designer

I'm turning data into visual compelling stories at a global business intelligence research firm.

Designing interactive data visualizations for the web to communicate business intelligence research to Gartner L2's client base. Collaborating with researchers, developers, and other designers.

Design Intern

I worked on crafting the visual identity of a black-tie gala held in Ho Chi Minh City.

Designed and produced a visual identity for a non-profit organization's fundraising gala as part of a small creative team.

Designer

I volunteered remotely to help a non-profit organization refine their brand and outreach strategy.

Worked with a team of designers and strategists to help a non-profit better communicate their mission to existing and potential donors. Deliverables included refined brand guidelines, brand book, brochure, and microsite wireframe/design.
